INTRODUCTION

HILL DIRECTORY CO., Inc., publishers of Southeastern Directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1937 edition of the Winston-Salem City Directory.

Confidence in the continued growth of Winston-Salem's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the Directory is a mirror truly reflecting Winston-Salem to the world.

The enviable position occupied by HILL'S Directories in the estimation of the public, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the Winston-Salem Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the city.

Population

The population of Winston-Salem is estimated at 88,434, based on the number of personal names in the Alphabetical section of the Directory, with due allowance for those under Directory age. Territory immediately adjacent, which is part of the city, as far as business and social life are concerned, is included in the Directory, and, likewise, in the population estimate.

Five Major Departments

The five major departments are arranged in the following order:—

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, pages 21 to 52, printed on tinted paper, contains the advertisements of leading manufacturing, business and professional interests of Winston-Salem. The advertisements are indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented. This is reference advertising at its best, and merits a survey by all buyers eager to familiarize themselves with sources of supply. In a large commercial and industrial center like Winston-Salem, the necessity of having this kind of information immediately available, is obvious. General appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the many reference users of this City Directory service.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents and business and professional concerns is included in pages 53 to 521. This is the only record in existence that aims to show the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult resident of Winston-Salem, and the name, official personnel, nature and address of each firm and corporation in the city.

THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, covers pages 525 to 685. In this section the named streets are arranged in alphabetical order, followed by the numbered streets in numerical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 689 to 741. This department lists the names of all business and professional concerns in alphabetical order under appropriate headings. This feature constitutes an invaluable and indispensable catalog of the numerous interests of the community. The Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller. As such it plays an important part in the daily activities of the commercial and professional world. More buyers and sellers meet through the Classified Business Directory than through any other medium.

Municipal Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the city, depicting in unbiased terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a manufacturing site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference, and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of Winston-Salem.

The Winston-Salem Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the Winston-Salem City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in the offices of the Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce, for free reference by the general public. This is one of more than 450 Directory Libraries installed in the chief cities of the U. S. and Canada by members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, under whose supervision the system is operated.

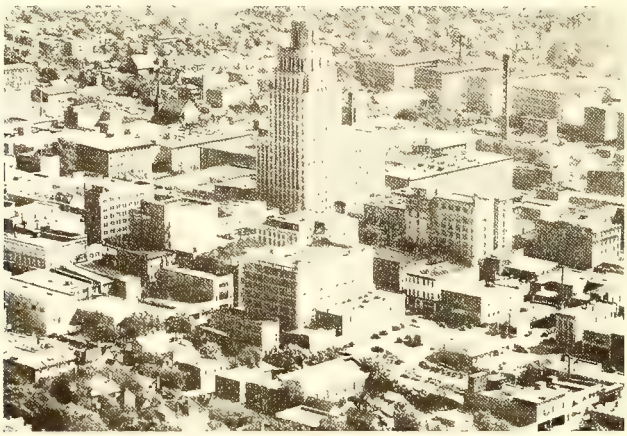

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

WINSTON-SALEM

THE WORLD'S TOBACCO METROPOLIS

Prepared by Publicity Department, Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce

The Heart of Winston-Salem's Business Section

An Appreciation

"I learned to love this community when a child, and have grown greatly to respect and admire it through the past half century.

"There are here those great influences of the inner life of manhood and womanhood which decidedly make for constructive citizenship, friendly living and a genuine comradeship of interest which are in the main accountable for the material progress narrated within these pages.

"From long experience I assuredly believe that this is a community of friendly-minded and appreciative people. I truly believe further that there is here a sincerity of cooperation which moves beneath the surface and richly endows the daily life of this favored community.

"Living in Winston-Salem is not an experience of isolation and loneliness, because men and women find friends and form friendships here in a spiritual atmosphere, sincere in its welcome and lasting in its fellowship.

"Nor is this without historic reason. Not often is there to be found such a community, bottomed upon a pioneer life, which, while it sought freedom of conscience, expressed this freedom in industrial diligence, economic resourcefulness and spiritual self-control.

"Around this foundation group there has been steadily gathered that larger present citizenship, which, appreciative of the past, is interpreting these inherited ideals in terms of Twentieth Century living."

This tribute, written to his home city by Dr. Howard E. Rondthaler, president of Salem College, is the keynote to a presentation that seeks to give a vital picture of an old town and a younger town, Salem and Winston, growing together through cooperative effort into the leading industrial city of the Southeast, Winston-Salem.

The Founding of Salem

The first tree was felled for the first house in Salem on a cold day in February, 1766. Neither the site nor the act was incidental, for the Moravian settlers, seeking a home in a new country, had made their selection in advance with utmost care, as their diary shows.

Choosing new homesites was not unprecedented with them. From the middle of the Fifteenth Century, when their ancestors in the Bohemian homeland, seeking religious freedom after the martyrdom of John Hus, had first ungloved the harsh hand of persecution, these pre-Reformation Protestants, composing the first fully-organized Protestant church, had sought homes wherever freedom was promised. The nationalities of the eight "original settlers" in North Carolina—two Danes, two Germans, one Englishman and three Southern Europeans—indicate to some extent the dispersing of this intensely-religious group, known as the Unitas Fratrum, or Unity of Brethren. Their first American settlement was made in Savannah, in 1735. In 1740 they came to Bethlehem, Pa., and in 1752, to the 100,000-acre tract in North Carolina which the church had purchased from the Earl of Granville. It was called "Wachovia" after the name of the ancestral Austrian home of Count Zinzendorf, powerful Saxon nobleman who first befriended the Moravians, as they have come to be known in America, and later became their leader.

The only religious peculiarity of these ancient and much-persecuted Christians was the desire for freedom in worship, tranquillity in living, and cooperation and industry in their daily tasks. These attributes made them excellent citizens.

The Village Grows

The town that had been named and planned so long in advance, Salem, signifying peace, took shape quickly. Among the first structures that are still standing and still serving are: The Brothers House, now the Moravian Church Home, built in 1769; the Sisters House, now a part of Salem College, built in 1772; the Salem Tavern, built in 1784; the Community Store; the Boys School, now the Wachovia Historical Museum, built in 1791; the Home Moravian Church, supplanting an earlier "Gemein Haus," or Community House, built in 1800; and a number of private dwellings and other buildings erected prior to 1800. Visitors are welcomed to all of these.

Wrote Frederick Wm. Marshall, who later became one of the leading citizens of Salem, "The town is not designed for farmers, but for those with trades." Thus from the beginning there was a diversity of occupation that first of all provided with amazing thoroughness for the needs of settlers in a backwoods community, and then laid the foundation for the industrial diversification that characterizes the city's present manufacturing.

Salem enjoyed its own municipal water works system long before other cities gave up open wells; Salem had a municipal fire department, volunteer, but equipped with the first fire engine in America, when Indians were still frequent visitors to the community; Salem had a planned system of street-lighting, zoning, garbage-disposal, and other features which gave it a completeness far surpassing many larger cities during the Revolutionary and early national periods.

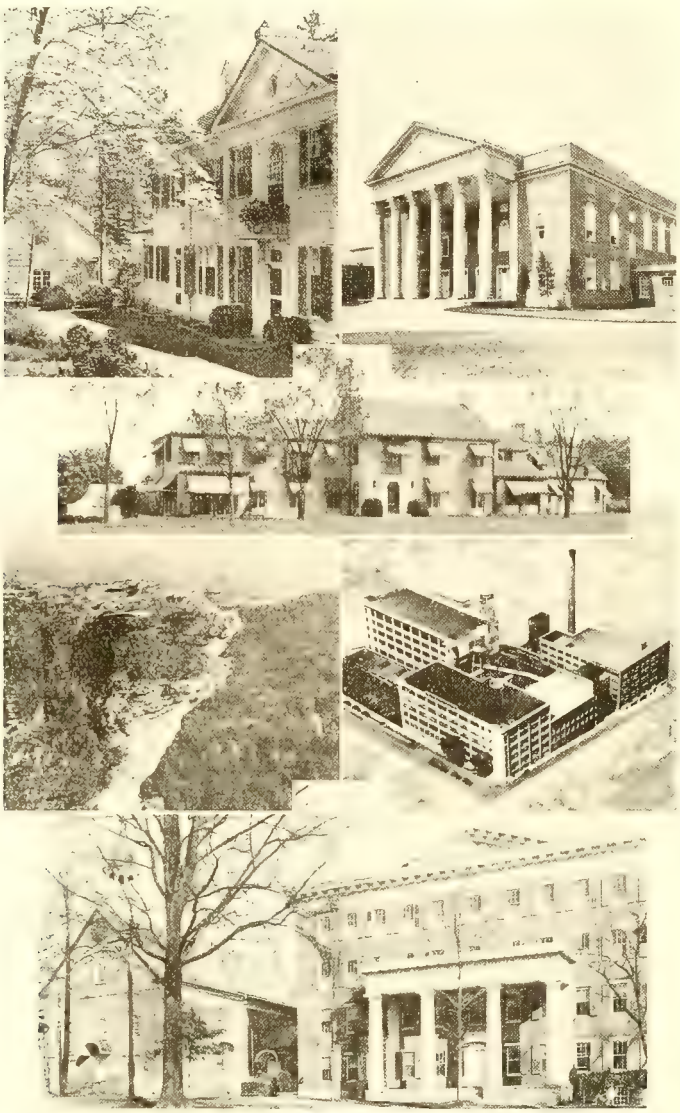

Care for Education

The church and school had always been the twin pillars of every Moravian community. So in Salem a school for girls was opened in 1772, and shortly afterward, a school for boys. Salem College, for young women, today combines 165 years of service and tradition with a present-day adequacy that gives it high scholastic rating. For both boys and girls, the rudimentary studies were supplemented with instruction in music, for which the Moravians have long been recognized, and the arts. From the outset there was a general interest in all the cultural aspects that make for progressive civic life.

Winston-Salem is exceedingly proud of its present school system, thoroughly equipped to meet the exacting demands of a complex social order.

The Founding of Winston

Winston, like Salem, did not grow up accidentally at a crossroads or convenient landing. When the County of Forsyth was created in 1849, the site for Winston was chosen as that best suited for the new county town. Named for Gen. Joseph Winston, of Revolutionary distinction, the town had, in 1850, a handsome brick court house, a substantial hitching rail, and a fenced-in court house square fringed with stores and homes.

6. The Home Moravian Church, Built in 1800, and the Main Hall of Salem College, Founded in 1772.

It was clearly obvious from the beginning that whether or not Winston became a city, and the type of city Winston was to become, were matters of interest only to those who resided in the community. There were no railroads, highways, waterways, electric power, mineral resources, nor any favorable combination of circumstances which were destined to produce a city at this spot whether local settlers wanted it or not. Winston-Salem had to be built, and built from within.

Consolidation

Winston and Salem soon grew together, not only in physical fact, but in community of interests. As early as 1885 a local chronicler wrote: "The ground so sparsely settled a hundred years ago is now occupied by two prosperous and growing towns. We notice that they have recently been recognized under their combined name, 'Winston-Salem', in a bill introduced into the U. S. Senate by one of our senators. A Chamber of Commerce now amicably and usefully binds the two towns together."

There were numerous adjustments to be made, but the cooperative spirit of the whole citizenry that had characterized both towns from their foundings triumphed in the ratification in 1913 of "An Act to Consolidate the City of Winston and the Town of Salem."

Industrial Development

The year 1913 has another significance for Winston-Salem from the viewpoint of its remarkable industrial development, for it was at this time that the manufacture of cigarettes was inaugurated on a large scale.

The seeds of industry had been sown early. The first tobacco factory was built in 1872, and by 1885 there were fully fifty concerns in operation, ranging from simple sheds or barns where one or two operators made tobacco into plugs, to substantial factories employing several hundred workers. In 1875, when the Reynolds Tobacco Co. built its first brick buildings, the total local investment in the tobacco industry in all its phases in Winston was $25,000. Today this same industry pays approximately $160,000,000 a year in internal revenue alone.

So rapidly did the new industries grow, absorbing the smaller plants, consolidating efforts and adopting identifying features, that in 1885, a local historian wrote, "Manufacturing continues to be the chief activity of the place." The statement, after more than fifty years, still characterizes the city.

The manufacture of tobacco products was not the only important operation conducted in the thriving community. The leaf tobacco market, opened in 1872, kept pace with industrial development, and is now one of the largest in the world.

Prior to the establishment of the tobacco industry, textile-manufacturing had already assumed important proportions in Salem. This line of industry has also expanded greatly, with the result that Winston-Salem is today the national manufacturing center for men's and boys' underwear and woolen blankets, and produces large quantities of hosiery, homespuns, upholstering material, narrow fabric, swimming suits and other products.

Famous in earlier days for the covered wagons that carried the names of Winston and Salem across the plains to the Far West, the city has a number of furniture-manufacturing concerns, one of which has grown from the old wagon works.

Unusual Character of Manufacturing

A number of lines of industry in Winston-Salem have no rivals in the state, and in several instances, in the Southeastern industrial area. Tinfoil-manufacturing and the extraction of nicotine sulphate, both incident to the tobacco industry, are sizeable operations in themselves. Air-conditioning machinery and humidifiers, swimming suits and narrow fabric are among the locally-manufactured products without nearby competitors.

Another interesting and significant feature of industry in Winston-Salem is that 95% of it is of local origin and ownership. This situation makes for a civic concern that is reflected in such cooperative enterprises as the annual Community Chest campaigns. Winston-Salem is often designated in social-service circles as "The Nation's Community Chest City," because for fourteen successive years the required budget for the charitable and character-building agencies included in the Chest has been subscribed in a single day.

Low Tax Rates

Another advantage of the concentration of all plants of the major local industries is the low tax rate. Through a wide spread of taxable values, there is a definite benefit to the individual home-owner and small taxpayer. Property is assessed on a basis of 60% of the true value, and taxed at a rate of $1.25 per $100 valuation. With the county rate at 50c, Winston-Salem has the lowest combined city and county tax rate in North Carolina.

Growth in Population

Growth in industry has been reflected in the increase in population that has in 87 years made Winston-Salem one of the two largest cities in the state. The combined population of the two towns, Winston and Salem, was 4,197 in 1880. By 1890 it had more than doubled to 10,729. Census reports for the decades following show:

1900.....13,650, an increase in ten years of 27.2%
1910.....22,700, an increase in ten years of 66.3%
1920.....48,395, an increase in ten years of 113.2%
1930.....75,274, an increase in ten years of 55.6%

The estimated population in 1936 was 85,000, with continuous growth being noted.

Natural Advantages

The industrial achievement of Winston-Salem has been facilitated by a number of natural advantages which likewise contribute to the city's desirability as a place in which to live and visit.

Winston-Salem is located on the Piedmont plateau, which extends from Virginia through western central North Carolina and South Carolina into Alabama. Predicted by the late Franklin K. Lane to become the "greatest industrial area in the country," this area is rapidly advancing toward the fulfillment of his prediction.

The exact location is:

Latitude: 36 degrees, 05 minutes, 48 seconds.
Longitude: 80 degrees, 14 minutes, 48 seconds.

Protected by neighboring mountain ranges—the Blue Ridge, the Sauratown and Pilot Mountain—at an altitude of 885-1,000 feet, the city enjoys a remarkably balanced climate. It has an average of 232 clear days a year, and a mean temperature of 58.2 degrees F.—high, 93; low, 11. Normal for July, 70-75; normal for January, 35-40. Rainfall, 54.4 inches; snowfall, 6.5 inches.

The city is the year-around gateway for such famous resorts as Pinehurst and other Sandhills winter communities, and the summer mountain resorts of Roaring Gap and Blowing Rock, and is within less than a day's comfortable motoring of the most colorful stretch of the Atlantic Coast to the east, and the peak of eastern America to the west.

With a wide variety of cultural and recreational facilities, the city is attracting increasing numbers of tourists throughout the year.

This Publication Is The Product of a Member of —thus assuring you the ultimate service that skill and care can produce in the way of City Directories or other reference media, and providing protection against fraudulent advertising schemes which operate under the name of Directories.

The following "Standards of Practice," adopted at the inception of the Association of North American Directory Publishers in 1898, and strictly adhered to over the years, is your guarantee of satisfactory Directory Service.

The publisher of a Directory should dedicate his best efforts to the cause of business uplift and social service, and to this end pledges himself:

1. To consider, first, the interest of the user of the book.

2. To subscribe to and work for truth, honesty and accuracy in all departments.

3. To avoid confusing duplication of listings, endeavoring to classify every concern under the one heading that best describes it, and to treat additional listings as advertising, to be charged for at regular rates.

4. To increase public knowledge of what Directories contain; to study public needs and make Directories to supply them; to revise and standardize methods and classifications, so that what is wanted may be most easily found, and the Directory be made to serve its fullest use as a business and social reference book and director of buyer and seller.

5. To decline any advertisement which has a tendency to mislead or which does not conform to business integrity.

6. To solicit subscriptions and advertising solely upon the merits of the publications.

7. To avoid misrepresentation by statement or inference regarding circulation, placing the test of reference publicity upon its accessibility to seekers, rather than on the number of copies sold.

8. To co-operate with approved organizations and individuals engaged in creative advertising work.

9. To avoid unfair competition.

10. To determine what is the highest and largest function of Directories in public service, and then to strive in every legitimate way to promote that function.

$100 Reward will be paid by the Association of North American Directory Publishers for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons engaged in the publishing, collecting or canvassing for any fraudulent or fake directories.

The City Directory

places the city on the map and is its only representative to the world beyond its own gates.

¶It is the city's catalogue of business and represents the city, its citizens and institutions in every corner of these United States.

¶It is the logical means of publicity in advertising the city, its manufacturing industries, its advantages and resources.

¶The men who direct the affairs of progressive and up-to-date business institutions recognize the fact that the City Directory tells the story of the city's life and keeps it before the public as no other publication does or can.

¶Its Classified Business Section furnishes a list of all trades, professions and pursuits, constituting a special trade directory or buyers' guide and is the best advertising medium on earth.

The City Directory

is the most effective and most economical method of reaching all the people all the time. Those who buy without looking at the list of those who sell do themselves great injustice. The classified lists in the Business Directory form the best Buyers' Guide on earth. A modern, up-to-date method of getting what you want.

HILL'S
WINSTON-SALEM
Directory of Householders, Occupants of Office Buildings and Other Business Places, Including a Complete Street and Avenue Guide
1937

Copyright, 1936, by Hill Directory Co., Inc.

In the following list the named streets are arranged in alphabetical order, followed by the numbered streets in numerical order, the intersecting streets being shown. The number of each building on the street is given in numerical order, and opposite the number is placed the name of the occupants or houseowner or tenant. In the business blocks containing offices the occupants are shown by room numbers where practicable, in apartment homes the number denotes the number of the apartment. In all streets both sides of the street are included in one list. The profession or business of individuals or firms is given only at their respective place of business; to find occupation of others refer to Alphabetical List of Names.

NOTICE TO ATTORNEYS

In some portions of the country the Directory Publishers facilitate obtaining orders for publications of summons by searching all State and City Directories for defendants and furnishing affidavits. We have a complete and up-to-date Library of City Directories, comprising the latest issues obtainable, and shall be glad to confer with any attorneys who might desire to make use of our services in this connection.

HILL DIRECTORY COMPANY, INC.

Publishers

8 NORTH SIXTH STREET

RICHMOND, VA.

TRADE! You like to patronize those concerns who are in business to stay.

It's human to expect that such business establishments always stand back of the wares they sell.

The advertising in this Directory is suggestive of the stability and permanency of the advertisers.

Frauds, fakes, get-rich-quicks and other schemers have little use for directory advertising. It lives too long.

The modern City Directory is a business institution. It occupies a place peculiarly its own. It is as necessary to the progress and development of a city generally as anything naturally would be which deals with such a fundamental as the citizens themselves.

If you are not advertising your business in the Directory, may we explain how and why it will pay you?

The City Directory

is the most effective and most economical method of reaching all the people all the time. Those who buy without looking at the list of those who sell do themselves great injustice. The classified lists in the Business Directory form the best Buyers' Guide on earth. A modern, up-to-date method of getting what you want.

The City Directory

places the city on the map and is its only representative to the world beyond its own gates.

¶It is the city's catalogue of business and represents the city, its citizens and institutions in every corner of these United States.

¶It is the logical means of publicity in advertising the city, its manufacturing industries, its advantages and resources.

¶The men who direct the affairs of progressive and up-to-date business institutions recognize the fact that the City Directory tells the story of the city's life and keeps it before the public as no other publication does or can.

¶Its Classified Business Section furnishes a list of all trades, professions and pursuits, constituting a special trade directory or buyers' guide and is the best advertising medium on earth.
